The Last Wager of Battle in England.

An English paper says: "There has died in Birmingham a poor old man, one event of whose history forms an important mark in the progress of civilization in England, especially as relating to the old barbarous mode of settling disputes, and trying causes by the 'wager of battle.' The deceased, William Ashford, was the last person who was challenged in an English Court to meet, in single combat, a man whom he had accused as the murderer of his sister. On the 26th of May, 1817, a beautiful young woman named Mary Ashford, in her twentieth year, went to a dance at Erdington, without proper protection. She left the festive scene at a late hour, accompanied by a young man named Abraham Thornton, a farmer's son in the neighborhood. They were last seen talking together at a stile near the place, but next morning she was found dead in a pit of water; and there were evidences that she had been murdered. General suspicion pointed to Thornton. He was arrested and tried for murder at Warwick assizes in August; but, though circumstantial evidence was against the defence, which was an alibi, obtained a verdict of 'not guilty.'

"The feeling of surprise and indignation at his acquittal was so intense that a new trial was called for, and an appeal was entered against the verdict by William Ashford, the brother, and next of kin to the murdered girl. Thornton was again apprehended, and sent to London in November, to be tried before Lord Ellenborough and the full Court of Queen's Bench. Instead of regular defence by arguments, evidences and witnesses, Thornton boldly defied all present modes of jurisdiction, and claimed his right, according to ancient custom, to challenge his accuser to fight him, and decide his innocence or guilt by the 'wager of battle.' His answer to the court was 'Not guilty, and I am ready to defend the same by my body.' He accompanied these words by the old act of taking off his glove and throwing it down upon the floor of the court.

"At this stage of the proceedings Wm. Ashford, who was in court, actually came forward, and was about to accept the challenge by picking up the glove, when he was kept back by those about him. With what wonder did the assembly, and indeed the nation ask, 'Can a person insist on so absolete a mode of trial, in such a time of light as the nineteenth century?' But with greater wonder and regret was the judgment of the court received; for, after several adjournments, it was decided, in April, 1818, that the law of England was in favor of the 'wager of battle;' that the old laws sanctioning it had never been repealed; and that, though this mode of trial had become obsolete, it must be allowed. Thornton was therefore discharged, and, being set at liberty, left England for America, where he died in obscurity."

A Yankee's Portrait of Napoleon and Eugenie.

"Burleigh," of the Boston Journal, writes from Paris in dispraise of everything about the Exposition, except the Emperor. He says:

Those who expect to find in the Emperor a feeble and waning man, will be disappointed. He seems to be in the prime of life and the full vigor of health. He has none of that sleepy, drowsy look represented in pictures. His eye is not heavy and stolid. His face is full of thought, and his eye, when he choses to hit his head, is brilliant. He acts like a misanthrope. The expression on his face is that of a man jaded—tired out with fetes and shows—one who didn't care to conceal his disgust. He sits back in his carriage, or rather crouched up in the corner, indifferent to all the plaudits of the great crowd, not even deigning to look on the assembled multitude watching for the imperial smile.

Not so the Empress. She is benignant, intellectual and handsome. She is the idol of France. She never appears but the people go into ecstacies. She sits upright in her carriage, bows to the right and left, not with the air of patronage, but with genuine goodness and delight, with a smile that is so peculiar to her Majesty. Like Abigail of old, she seems to attempt by her own courtesy to make up for the churlishness of her husband. She is Spanish, and her style of beauty so unlike that of the French that it is marked. The French ladies are not beautiful, tried by any standard, either English or American. They are short, dark and fat. Their dress is not becoming; it is neither tasty nor elegant. The noble ladies, as they ride in their coaches, are by no means attractive.

THE JEFF. DAVIS SENSATION.

He is Surrendered by General Burton on the Writ of Habeas Corpus—Immediately arrested on a Bench Warrant—Is Again Released on Bail—Ordered for Trial at Norfolk—Responsibility of Delay in the Trial With the Government.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

RICHMOND, May 13.—The United States Court was packed this morning. A military guard was placed around it, and there was a strong police force inside. About twenty ladies were among the spectators. A number of negroes were also present as spectators. At 11 o'clock Mr. Davis was brought in and took a seat next to the prisoners' box, with General Burton and the United States Marshal. A servant accompanied Mr. Davis.

Mr. Davis was sitting near an open window, and made the remark, "It is a little cold, and the sun is getting warm," and moved nearer his counsel, in front of the Judge.

General Burton's return to the writ of habeas corpus was then read, and he accompanied General Burton in obeying the laws, and relieved him of the custody of Davis, and the General accordingly served on him a bench warrant, to answer the Norfolk indictment.

Mr. O'Conor spoke of Mr. Davis' long imprisonment, and feeble health, and asked that he be bailed.

There being no opposition on the part of the prosecution, who fixed the amount of bail at $100,000, the Judge announced his readiness to accept bail, stating at the same time, that the responsibility of delay in bringing the case into court rested upon the Government and not upon the District Attorney. He announced that the amount of bail should be given by persons residing in the State of Virginia. The sureties then came forward, and signed the recognizance, the first, followed by Mr. Schell, of New York, and Mr. Jacklan, of Philadelphia, and others. A number of gentlemen residing in Virginia offered their names as bail.

Davis was congratulated by several of his friends, but there was no demonstration or ovation of any kind.

After giving bail to appear at the November term of Court, Davis was taken by coach to the Spottswood House.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—In the Supreme Court to-day Justice Davis delivered the opinion of the Court in the Debara case, affirming the decree of the California court in favor of the city of San Francisco. Debara was a mere tenant at will. His title was simply a license to occupy lands for the purpose of pasturage, subject to revocation at any time.

The Georgia and Mississippi injunction cases were dismissed for want of jurisdiction. The decision of the court will be delivered hereafter.

FROM TENNESSEE.

The Impeachment Trial of Judge Frazier—Typographical Union Ignored —Southern Baptist Convention.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NASHVILLE, May 13.—In the impeachment trial to-day, counsel for Judge Frazier took exceptions to Senators Hall and Bosson sitting as members of the Court. Senator Hall, it is alleged, is a citizen of Kentucky, whilst Senator Bosson is a citizen of Rutherford, and was elected to the Fortieth Congress while County is situated, where he has not been since 1862.

The Republican Banner this morning declared its independence of the Typographical Union and discharged all its old employees, who were members of that organization. The paper is now under the exclusive control of the proprietors, who conduct its editorial and mechanical departments themselves.

MEMPHIS, May 13.—In the Baptist Convention to-day a report was made in reference to the relations towards negroes, setting forth that the body cherished the kindliest feelings towards the late slaves, and urged upon the ministry the great importance of establishing churches, particularly Sunday Schools, for their religious instruction. The Committee on Foreign Relations submitted a report, urging renewed exertions of the Church for the maintenance of that department. The Church committees for the ensuing year were appointed, and the Convention adjourned till to-morrow, when it probably will adjourn finally.

LATEST CONDENSED NEWS.

—It is definitely asserted that no such action by the late Cleveland Railroad Convention, relative to prepaid freight over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, as reported in the newspapers, ever took place in that body. The report originated in the desire of certain parties to compel the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to abandon its policy of a fast freight line to the West.

—Bishop Lamele, of the Roman Catholic Church, died at Bardstown, Kentucky, on Saturday evening, after a long and painful illness. His remains were taken to Louisville yesterday, laid in state at the Cathedral, and the funeral announced to take place to-day.

—Senator Wilson, on his trip from Atlanta to Montgomery, Alabama, addressed several white audiences, and was severely catechised about certain customs in the North, but was able to make suitable replies to all questions. On Saturday he addressed an audience of the usual mixed character, and in the course of his speech made no reference whatever to confiscation. He was replied to by a prominent lawyer named Clanton, who urged in argument that the negro did not owe his freedom to the Republican party; that President Lincoln had promised the rebellious South two years after the commencement of the war that their slaves would be undisturbed. After speeches, Gen. Swayne called for the sense of the colored people as to who were for the Republican party, and the response was a unanimous affirmative.

—Judge Kelly addressed the people of New Orleans on Saturday evening last, on the political status of the South. His audience was the largest mass meeting of citizens known in that city for some time. Resolutions of a strong Republican character were adopted after the meeting. The remarks of the Judge were frequently applauded.

—W. B. Marsh, President of the Bank of Lexington, N. C., and D. Hampton, one of the Directors, were taken to Salisbury on Tuesday, by order of General Sickles, under charge of embezzling the specie of the bank about the time of the surrender of the Rebel General Johnston. The complaint was made by J. W. Thorn and others. The parties have had a hearing, the evidence forwarded to General Sickles, and the accused will remain in custody of the military until the General is heard from.

—Henry Jenkins, whose arrest in New York for embezzlement, last year, caused so much excitement, died at a city hospital, to which he was removed from the jail a short time since.

—Notwithstanding the official predictions regarding riots and demonstrations against the peace of New York, the city is to-day the quietest day known in that city for years. the excise law being very generally observed. The rush of beer drinkers to Hoboken and West Chester was greater than usual, however, and some forty-six arrests were made for law violations.

THE INDIANS.

Gen. Hancock's Counsel with the Kiowas at Fort Larned.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—The Democrat's correspondent with Hancock's expedition, writing from Fort Hayes, May 9th, gives a long account of the council held with General Hancock and Satanta, principal chief of the Kiowas, at Fort Larned, on the 1st. Satanta was for peace, and promises to keep his young men and warriors under his influence with other tribes. He said the Cheyennes and Sioux abandoned their village because they were afraid to fight the troops, and thought Hancock did wrong to burn them. He was opposed to the railroad building, three years ago, in Kansas Territory, and charged Col. Leavenworth with selling annuity goods belonging to the Kiowas for the benefit of traders.

Colonel Leavenworth replied he had kept back annuities by orders from Washington.

General Hancock replied at length, going over much the same ground as in the former speech, but laying particular stress on the point that unless Indians faithfully performed their treaty obligations, and preserved peace, they would be severely punished. He referred to the fact that the Cheyenne and Sioux villages because those tribes fled to him and acted very treacherously. They began the war by burning stations and killing whites on Smoky Hill route, and would be punished, and all others in the next year. The other Indians would meet with like results.

CHICAGO, May 13.—A gentleman who left Sioux City, Iowa, on April 30th, reports he was known there of the reported capture of the steamer Miner and the massacre of those on board.

Immense Mass Meeting to Hear Congressman Kelley—Negro Procession and Disturbance—Court Clerk Removed by Gen. Sheridan—Talk of a Negro Candidate for Mayor.

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—At the Republican mass meeting, which filled the street of Lafayette Avenue, Mayor Heath presided. It was addressed by Representative Kelly, of Pennsylvania, and Messrs. Flanders and Conway, and also the Mayor. Between four and five thousand persons were present, five stands being erected. The negro ward clubs marched to the meeting in procession, headed by music and carrying numerous banners and transparencies. Considerable excitement prevailed, the negroes as they marched along cheering and shouting lustily. No disturbance occurred until after the meeting broke up, when a fight occurred in a car in St. Charles street, and cleared it of white occupants, by shoving their clubs through the windows. After the meeting in session they compelled the driver to go ahead. All liquor saloons were closed at 4 o'clock. The chief of police has issued an order removing a clerk of one of the District Courts for allegedly issuing of fraudulent certificates of naturalization.

The Republicans are advocating the appointment of negro policemen, and there is talk of running Mr. Johnson, a prominent and extremely popular negro, for Mayor.

FROM MEXICO.

The Siege of Vera Cruz—The Besiegers Making but Little Progress—Fall of the City of Mexico Considered Certain.

BALTIMORE, May 13.—The Sun publishes the following letter from its special correspondent in Havana:

The English West India mail steamer arrived from Vera Cruz on the 5th inst., but brings no later papers nor letters. Vera Cruz was still closely besieged by the Liberals, who were using the only available siege piece with little effect, as only some few balls have been fired and no lives lost. There was no probability of the Liberals taking the city, unless the Imperial generals should instigate among themselves, causing a surrender. Sickness among the besiegers was assuming alarming proportions. There were over two hundred and fifty in the hospital.

The city of Mexico was invested by Diaz. It is intended to starve it into a surrender. The city at all hazards. The besieging force numbers about 12,000 and receives additions daily. The fallof the city is considered certain. Puebla will soon compel the besieged to capitulate.

A Reverend Scoundrel—Shocking Familiarities—He is Threatened With a Rope on a Rail—He Resigns His Charge.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

BOSTON, May 13.—Rev. Screno Howe, who for six years was settled over the Baptist church and society in Lynn, has recently been detected in familiarities of a most gross and shocking character with many of the children of both sexes belonging to his congregation. He was charged with criminal practices at a meeting of the church on Saturday evening. He made no denial, being threatened with a "ride on a rail" by the young men of the place. Howe was a member of the Legislature, and sent in his resignation to-day, which was accepted after a debate in secret session.

The Injunction Cases—That of Georgia Only Dismissed—The Mississippi Bill amended to Include Arkansas Treasury Matter.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, May 13, 1867.

THE INJUNCTION CASES.

The Georgia injunction case, only, was dismissed to-day for want of jurisdiction. The case of Mississippi, as amended, making Arkansas a party to the complaint, and covering Gen. Ord's action with regard to the treasury of the latter State, will probably be argued on Friday. It is hoped by the complainants that the Arkansas treasury case will furnish a property clause upon which the Court can base jurisdiction.

SABBATH SCHOOL PARADE.

In the annual Sabbath School parade, today, thirty-five schools were represented, about eight thousand children being in the line of procession.

SPEECH OF FENIAN BURK.

After His Conviction for Treason.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The steamer City of New York, from Liverpool, via Queenstown on the 2d, arrived to-day.

The following is an extract from the speech of Fenian Burke, after his conviction: "It is not my desire now, my Lords, to give utterance to one word against the verdict which has been rendered against me. But fully conscious of my honor as a man, never impugned; fully conscious that I can go to my God this day with a clear conscience unsullied, I can only say this, that these parties, actuated by a desire either for their own aggrandisement, or to save their paltry possessions, have pandered to the appetite, if I may so speak, of the age, and my life shall pay the forfeit. Fully convinced and fortified in the righteousness of my every act, in connection with the late revolutionary movement in which I have done nothing which would bring the blush of shame to mantle my brow. My conduct and career here, and in America, if you like to investigate it, are before you, and even in this, my hour of trial, I feel a consciousness of having lived an honest man, and with the belief that I have given my life to give freedom and liberty to the land of my birth. I have done only that which every Irishman would do, and I feel proud to have the feeling of liberty should do. I seek not the death of a martyr, but if it is the will of the Almighty that my blood should be a motion for the land of my birth should be tested at the seafold. I am willing there to die in defence of the rights of mankind, to give the right of an oppressed people to throw off the yoke of thraldom. I am an Irishman by birth, an American by adoption, by nature a Republican. I despise no one, enemy to the power that holds my native land in bonds of tyranny. It has so often been said that Irishmen are unfitted for self-government, that I deem it unnecessary for me to allude to it. Ireland's children are not, never were, and never will be, willing or submissive slaves, and my language is that I will spurn no inch of Irish soil, just so long will they believe it to be a divine right to conspire and devise means to hurl down its power and wrest it to stand the God-like structure of self-government."

FROM NEW YORK.

ARREST OF A COLLECTOR.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Deputy Thomas Healy, of the First District, has been arrested in Brooklyn, on a charge of embezzling $656 from the government. Dec. 1 bonds were tax collections from 1861 to 1867. Healy was taken before Commissioner Newton, when he stated that he might have lost the money. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

COLONEL LEAVENWORTH ARRESTED.

Colonel Leavenworth refused he had kept back annuities by orders from Washington.

There exists a tradition, that four thousand years ago cancer could be cured thoroughly. The simplicity of this method has been lost. According to an interesting correspondence of the Exchange News, from Nertshinsk, Siberia, there is a common man living in that place, who dedicates his life to the most infallible and radical cures of cancer, and has already assisted many persons with great success to entirely get rid of this terrible disease. Medical men having been notified of the marvellous cures, inquired several times of him, what herbs he used in preparing his medicine, the only prescribes directions, which purify the blood, but never received a satisfactory answer. It is only known that he obtains the herbs in the forest.

THE PRODUCTION OF COAL OIL IN AUSTRIA assumes every day greater dimensions. It amounted in 1866 to 500,000 cwt., in the unrefined state, from which was manufactured refined petroleum, solar oil, paraffine oil and paraffine. The Galician oil will be increased to a colossal extension, for the wells already sunk (and 100 worked in the right way) are able to furnish, with the necessary oil, not only Austria but the whole of Europe. In order to competition with the American product, which is now carefully refined, meets with great difficulties, the use in both parts of the Galician wells and refineries are conducted, is difficult in many respects. Leaving the latter out of question, the freight rates, imposed by the Northern and Chaiss Lewis Railways, it will scarcely be believed that the freight of American oil from New York to Bremen and from Bremen to Vienna does not exceed the cost of transportof the Galician product from the oil fields (Drohobicz) to Vienna.

Russia possesses, according to recent investigations, a larger area of coal fields than the United States. In the centre of Russia, where lies Moscow, the old capital of the Empire, a coal basin has been discovered which nearly equals in size the American bituminous coal fields. In the regions of the "Don" are more than one and a half times as large as those of England. In the Ural district alone has been found the value of which is still increased by the vicinity of numerous iron veins. Coal has been already discovered recently in Caucasus, Crimea, Imbask, Cherson and Poland. Nobody knows to what importance that country may rise, when, in the course of time, railroads extend all over the empire.

THE largest theatres of Europe are at present as follows: "La Scala," Milan, with room for 4,000 spectators; "San Carlo," Naples, 3,500; "Fenice," Venice, 3,000; "La Fenice," Venice, 2,700; "Latro Reale," Turin, 3,000. The Vienna Opera House will contain room for 7,000 persons. The Italian theatres have generally five tiers—the new ones only four.

THE CITY OF PARIS has appointed physicians and apothecaries for every district, to give medical advice and medicines gratis to all laborers during the Exposition. The city government also intends to build barracks with room for twenty thousand English and ten thousand Prussian workingmen, who expect to visit the great fair.

—An extraordinary incident in widowhood has just occurred at Thornley, a colliery village on the Hartlepool & Sunderland Railway, in England. On the 2d of March, a miner belonging to Thornley, named Nicholas Cook, aged about fifty years, was married to a widow at Helton-le-Hole. After the ceremony was over, the couple adjourned to a friend's house and enjoyed themselves in a suitable manner. They afterwards left for their own house, and, on arriving at Thornley, the wedding festivities were kept up with a joyous spirit. In the midst of their hilarity the bridegroom was suddenly seized with a choking sensation in the throat, and fell down a corpse.

—One of the assassins is under arrest at St. Ferreol, near Quebec, for causing the death of his dumb and cripple child. The coroner's jury found a verdict of wilful murder. The prisoner, who is a Norwegian by birth, and is about fifty years of age, has been married three times. By his first wife he had a large family of children. By his second wife he had a child, which was dumb and a cripple. By his third wife he had a child which was deformed in the feet. The prisoner is said to have been very much attached to his dumb and crippled child. In both instances the child escaped with slight injuries. The deceased were drowned.

—A lady, who spent many months in zealous efforts to relieve the wants, and to educate the freedmen of Virginia, writes from Richmond that she finds many of the people very hungry, and that they say they have prayed for long years for freedom, and now it has come, they can starve as well as not have it.

—There are in the city of New York 20,000 children between the ages of five and twelve, who receive no education, and whose parents are too poverty stricken to send them to school. Many of these children are utterly destitute, many without parents, and all without the active, effective supervision of parents, and resulting from the above want, how can it be otherwise than they grow up they should be other than dissolute and depraved.

—A gentleman in Mobile sleeps on a mattress stuffed with gold and greenbacks. Last week he awoke in the morning and found the bed ticking pawed with the precious stuff. Upon counting him out seventy dollars were missing. The negro was tried and convicted, the evidence outside of the mattress being quite strong enough, at least circumstantially potent, to secure his conviction.

—Wm. McGlinchey was next put on trial. He was prosecuted by the ablest talent and defended by the most brilliant lawyers at the bar, and the greatest interest was manifested. Fogler was brought into court and placed upon the witness stand. He refused to testify or to speak except in confession of the youthful prisoner. His lips were sealed, and the jury was powerless to wring any statement from him. There was no evidence other than flight against the prisoner, and his conduct after the murder was not so inexplicable as it would have been in one of more years. He was not the first to be irresponsible, truthful and disinterested witnesses proved for him an alibi of the most positive character. It was shown that the boy was in bed at ten o'clock, the hour which the murder was consummated. That he left the house, was seen and conversed with there by two counter witnesses, and four miles from Montgomery's, the scene of the murder, and as the house of Dunsmore was some four miles from Montgomery's, the inference was natural that he could not have traveled there in so short a time. The Commonwealth had no evidence of weight, either positive or circumstantial, and the prisoner was acquitted. In the eyes of the law Montgomery is innocent of the crime, and let us be charitable enough to believe that justice has not been cheated of her dues, and that Fogler's confederate remains yet to be discovered.

THE CONDEMNED.

Fogler was duly sentenced to death, receiving his doom with stoical indifference, seeming hardly to realize his dreadful position. Indeed, his whole conduct, from the time of the arrest till his sentence, was characterized by the marks of bravado, and only within a few months has he engaged in preparation to meet that fate which he has so grievously offended. Of late he has shown a softer vein. He has been daily visited by faithful and zealous religious attendants, and we trust that he has found favor with his God, who is as merciful as just, and to whom the cry of the blood-stained murderer may appear in the garb of true repentance as pure and unspotted as that of the innocent child.

THE DEATH WARRANT.

Our worthy Governor is not tardy in visiting the swift penalty of the law to evil doers. He promptly issued the warrant fixing the day of the execution, which was received by Sheriff Smith and read to the wretched felon, who then for the first time realized the awful truth of the near tragedy in which he was to play a part—the tragedy on the scaffold.

THE ARRANGEMENTS.

Sheriff Smith has completed all the necessary arrangements for the execution of the condemned murderer. The scaffold has been erected in the jail yard, a jury of twenty citizens summoned and arrangements made for the admission of a few reporters of the press. But a limited number of persons will be present and few persons will witness the execution. Not much excitement is anticipated in Washington, although, if we mistake not, this will be the first visitation of capital punishment witnessed inside of fifty years in that county.

The GAZETTE will be represented by a reporter who will furnish our readers with the full history of the scenes and incidents of the execution on our Thursday's issue.

A CONFESSION.

It has been rumored that Fogler, the condemned, has been busily engaged in the preparation of a confession, in which he fully sets forth his participation in the crime, and the guilt of young Montgomery. It is stated that he was assured that if he refused to testify regarding the part Montgomery played in the murder, he would certainly receive a pardon, and not be forced to suffer the dire penalty of the law to-morrow. How much truth there is in the rumor we are not prepared to say, but it is quite probable that he will disclose from the scaffold who his confederate in guilt was, and if Montgomery, the reasons for his refusal to testify on trial. However, in Thursday's edition we will speak more knowingly upon the alleged confession.

RETRIBUTION.

Preparations for the Execution on Wednesday, at Washington Pa., of Fogler, the Murderer of Robert W. Dunsmore—A Review of the Case.

To-morrow, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock, unless Providence intervenes to prevent, Fogler, the murderer, will be executed in the jail yard at Washington, Pa. As the crime for which the unfortunate criminal will suffer the direst penalty of the law, attracted considerable attention in this neighborhood at the time of perpetration, we feel that a brief review of the murder will not be out of place, and will serve as a preface to the details of the execution, which we intend publishing in Thursday's paper.

THE MURDER.

In the early part of December last our community was startled with the announcement that a cold blooded murder had been perpetrated near our own boundaries, in Washington county. Robert W. Dunsmore, a wealthy citizen, had been made the victim of the avaricious assassin, had fallen upon his own threshold pierced with the bullet of the midnight robber, and the dread scene had been enacted in the sight of the trembling wife and helpless family of the husband and father, who fell in defense of his household. Mr. Dunsmore lived in a secluded spot upon the Middletown road, a few miles from the borough of Washington, and had the re

TUESDAY, MAY 14, 1867.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE has dismissed the Georgia and Mississippi applications for injunctions against the Military Government Law on the ground of a want of jurisdiction.

MR. JEFFERSON DAVIS was yesterday released on bail in the sum of $100,000. Among the bondsmen was HORACE GREELEY. This probably makes an end of this celebrated case. Wise rulers always endeavor not to get an elephant on their hands they know not what to do with. Our rulers were not wise, and having got possession of an elephant have disposed of him as best they could.

AMONG the greatest of afflictions to which human beings are exposed is deprivation of sight. The blind always excite peculiar solicitude and tenderness. In these later days public provision is made for their education, and art has managed to relieve many of the embarrassments they formerly experienced. MR. CHAPIN, of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Blind, with a number of the pupils, will soon visit Pittsburgh, for the purpose of creating additional interest in this noble charity, and will give a number of Concerts, the avails of which will inure to the benefit of that establishment. In this way our citizens will have an opportunity, which ought to be a pleasure, of becoming sight to the blind.

HOURS OF LABOR.

Forty years ago the hours of labor, in all open-air employments, ran from sunrise to sunset; for in-door work from five o'clock in the morning to six in the evening, in summer, and in winter the afternoon term was extended till nine o'clock. After some years the work people insisted on a reduction to ten hours a day. Much discussion was engendered, a large part of it heated and acrimonious. Employers insisted that business could not be conducted efficiently under the new rule, and employes maintained that proprietors were hard-hearted and exacting. But the rule, notwithstanding temporary friction, was established, and, on the whole, has operated well.

Now, there is a pretty general desire, on the part of skilled workmen, to reduce the day's labor to eight hours. Upon this proposition the old debate is renewed. Nothing new is offered on either side. The buyers of labor want to get the most they can for their money, and the workmen want to give the fewest possible hours for their wages. There is no novelty in this. Every man likes to buy where he can get things cheapest, and to sell where he can obtain the highest price; and this is every man's privilege. There is no rational cause of complaint between buyer and seller of Labor on this head. But each of them is bound to remember that it takes two to make a bargain; and that, after all, the law of supply and demand, however it may be temporarily impeded, is sure in the long run to settle all disputes.

If a man, taking the year through, will perform as much work under the eight as under the ten hour rule, he is clearly entitled to the same compensation for the shorter term as for the longer. But that this will be the average result remains to be demonstrated. It does not follow because a man, or a set of men, will do as much in ten hours as in fourteen, that he or they will do as much in eight hours as in ten. There is a point beyond which a given amount of production cannot be compressed into a certain space. No man will be so absurd as to pretend that as much can be done in one hour as in sixteen. Between these two extremes there must be a point where shortened time implies lessened production. Exactly where this point is will vary in different individuals, and the average can only be determined by considerable experience. To this point, wherever it may be, we are decidedly in favor of reducing the legal hours of labor, leaving each man to contract for more if he feels able to perform it. Down to this point there ought to be no reduction of wages, corresponding to the diminished hours, and there will be none, because the demand for labor will regulate its value. So much for so much, hurts nobody. The mistake of some workmen consists in assuming what remains to be demonstrated, that eight hours toil will produce as much as ten. If this was a fact established, the rest would be comparatively easy.

The lot of a man who depends on daily labor for a living is hard enough at best. What can be made in this way affords scanty subsistence for a man and his family, and rarely affords provision for declining health or old age. But this is true, also, if a man advances from being a hireling to be an employer, he will speedily find that eight hours application to business will not answer his purpose. Most successful men in business or professional pursuits give from twelve to fourteen hours, often sixteen, out of every twenty-four, to their calling, and find these none too many.

BRITISH NORTH AMERICA.

The British people have evinced an aptness for colonizing unequalled in modern times. They have not only planted new possessions and maintained them, but have seized old and populous countries, and held on to them in spite of all opposition from within or without. These outlying dominions were so numerous and extensive in Mr. DANIEL WEBSTER'S day, that in a moment of exaltation he described the morning drum-beat of her garrisons, keeping pace with the hours, daily encircling the earth with one continuous strain of the martial airs of England. The figure was fine, because it truly represented the fact. But however strong may be the English greed for appropriating lands belonging to other people, a time has come when a consideration of the profitableness or unprofitableness of such seizures is uppermost. Does it pay? is a sensible question to ask. And this interrogation the English have been putting to themselves with a good deal of earnestness touching their colonial system.

Directly, this system costs more than it comes to. Parliament is continually importuned for appropriations to pay the expenses of civil administration, of military defence, and of harbor and railroad improvements. For these onerous outgoes, nothing returns.

Then it remains to be determined whether the indirect profits are sufficient to justify these expenditures. Under this head can be included only the profits accruing to British subjects from such monopoly of trade, absolute or partial, as results from the military possession of the colonies. If these provinces or counties were independent, or held subordinate to any other power, British merchants would not be shut out. They would still make gain, and for the plain reason that they have by their commercial superiority advantages to offer. Official reports show that the trade of Great Britian with the United States is larger than with any other nation, constituting a full quarter of its external traffic. It may well be doubted, whether this traffic would have been as extensive or remunerative if these States had remained British colonies. And it must be borne in mind that this immense trade inures to the profit of Great Britian notwithstanding the government of that country is more unpopular with our people than any other on the face of the earth.

The English begin to consider, moreover, that the colonial system is the occasion of military weakness at home where it is most essential to have strength. All the British military posts that dot the globe contain more or less home troops, not as a matter of mere prudence but of dire necessity. Alone the provincial contingents are not to be trusted in perilous emergencies. Since the insurrection in India the proportion of home troops to native has necessarily been increased. The draft has been more than the Islands could well sustain. Hence England has ceased, in a substantive sense, to be a military power in Europe. Nay, it has become a serious question whether she has within herself means of defense against an invasion by her nearest neighbor. In the days of the Spanish Armada the British public and government were agitated with fierce alarm lest they should be compelled to succumb before the power of Spain. She owed her deliverance to the incapacity of the Spanish Admiral and a violent gale that happened at the right moment to disperse the gigantic fleet. Steam has removed many of the difficulties which then attended an enterprise of that description, and made an invasion of England much more practicable. This is not a topic of simple speculation on the part of the enemies of the English. Their own statesmen have recently called attention to this danger by an array of statistics of such force as to be most unpleasant reading to them, as tending to conjure up spectres of imminent trouble.

The general result of all these considerations has been to bring colonies into disrepute, as a dangerous and expensive luxury. A strong feeling has been engendered favorable to getting rid of them on any terms not involving national humiliation or disgrace. Agitation to this end has become earnest, and the number concerned therein increases continually. It was in obedience to this new and growing sentiment that an island was lately voluntarily ceded to Greece, and that negotiations have been opened looking to the alienation of so much of the American possessions as lie along the Pacific coast. In leading Reviews and in Parliament men are not wanting who advocate the relinquishment of India to the native princes, and compelling Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to shift for themselves.

Indeed, such is the condition of British opinion that if it had been announced that the sovereignty of these last named provinces had been conveyed to the United States, instead of the title to Russian America, there would have been a feeling of almost universal satisfaction. British rule there is felt to an anachronism; and soon the provinces will be left to their own guidance or handed over to become members of the American Union. In the provinces there is a halting which of these two alternatives to accept; but many years will not be allowed to decide; nor can any present determination prevent the ultimate result of incorporation with the great Republic.

NEW JERSEY has authorized a Company to improve the navigation of the Delaware river, by dams and locks, from Trenton up to Deposite in New York. What action is needful on the part of Pennsylvania and New York to carry out this enterprise, we are not informed. Nor do we know of the existence of a solid purpose to accomplish the enterprise. It is questionable whether, for purposes of navigation, a considerable revenue could be derived. Business through all the upper Delaware region centres at New York. Two canals and a number of railroads crossing the river, lead thither. Much lumber still follows the natural outlet to Philadelphia. In a few years more the forests will be exhausted, and this descending traffic cease. So long as it continues the lumbermen will object to the erection of dams.

But the water-power thus created would be of immense value. Above Easton a fall of sufficient hight would be established at least every mile.

THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA, at the late session, passed a law to incorporate a company to manufacture gas at some point on the western slope of the Alleghenies and run it through pipes to New York for consumption there. As the average condensation of gas in ordinary works is above twenty-five per cent., it seems probable this enterprise was projected on a false basis. Gas enough is thrown into the air of Pittsburgh to supply many New Yorks. If the proposed scheme is practicable, why not take these millions of dollars worth of gas, which now only annoy, and utilize them?

A NEW RAILROAD is to be constructed from Scranton to Sunbury, on the opposite side of the river from the Bloomsburg and Lackawanna railroad. This is in the interest of the Northern Central, being designed as an outlet for anthracite coal to Baltimore.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, from Scranton to New York, is to have a double track, to accommodate the increased coal traffic.

THE Lancaster Inquirer thinks it the duty of the approaching Republican State Convention to "come out boldly and unreservedly in favor of Impartial Suffrage."

The North American thinks the Convention should pledge the party anew to reform in the matter of corporate franchises.

—The New Orleans Tribune states that in all parts of the Southern States where the Conservatives have made attempts to link the recently enfranchised citizens to their party, they have invariably failed to obtain even a man. At several meetings where colored men were called upon to speak, they boldly declared their determination to stand by all means with the Republican party. The Conservatives everywhere begin to be less hopeful of inducing the colored people to vote for them.

—The Sergeant Samuel M'Clure, of Co. I, 27th Regiment, U. S. Infantry, who was killed by Indians on the 27th of March last, near Fort Reno, was the only brother of Colonel A. K. M'Clure, of Chambersburg, Pa.

A New Scourge—Whole Fields of Grain Destroyed by Pigeons.

We learn from reliable sources that the farmers of many of the western counties are much troubled with pigeons; in fact, these birds have become a perfect scourge. Vast flocks have made their appearance, the air in many places being usually darkened; and, having migrated a long distance from the south, they are very voracious. These flocks alight upon the fields of new sown grain, and rolling over and over like the waves of the sea, pick up every kernel of grain in sight. It is impossible to drive them away; they are unmindful of the firing of guns, throwing of stones, shouting of men, or barking of dogs, and it is an easy task to kill any number of them with a pole. One farmer residing two miles east of Independence had sown three acres of wheat, and was preparing to harrow it in, when the pigeons made their appearance and gobbled up every ke nel before he could get it covered. Some fields containing forty acres were absolutely covered with pigeons, and although the sportsmen waged an incessant warfare against them, and killed great numbers, their places were soon supplied with others. Hunting pigeons has lost the charm of novelty, and the main question is how to save the grain. With the present high price of seed wheat, and its scarcity, this becomes a question of serious consideration.

A great number of fields will have to be sowed a second time, and we hear of some farmers who are doing it the third time. From all accounts, the main depredations of the feathered scourge appear to be confined to the region of country bordering the Wapsipinicon, as but comparatively little damage is reported along the Cedar river.—Dubuque Herald, May 3.

—The London Times announces that the British Admiralty has recently sold a whole steam fleet of naval vessels, including several ships of the line and several frigates, possessing an aggregate tonnage of 24,205 and 4,050 horse power, for the ridiculously small sum of 85,000 pounds—a sum, it is probable, less than the exact price of any one of them. The fact is, that the Government has discovered at last that wooden vessels can no longer be profitably used.

—Singular! but we did precisely the same thing. Whenever The Herald came to hand with articles abusive of Abraham Lincoln, we copied them and never thought of getting angry. The Herald's famous "smutty joker" article had an unprecedented run in the Southern press, and they all took it "in the best of humor."—Richmond Whig.

—During the war, the Richmond papers were full of the grossest abuse of Abraham Lincoln "the Yankees," and so forth. When we got a batch of them we always published the most violent of their articles, and had a good laugh at them for the next two days. We never got angry. We took their attacks in the best of humor.—N. Y. Herald.

—Sweden has adopted an American breech-loader for the use of her armies Austria, France, and other great powers have rejected the American patterns on account of their cost and the length of time required to adapt machinery for their construction, although their general superiority is acknowledged.

CONSUMPTION.—This Scourge of humanity, bane of civilization, with despotic sway has insinuated itself into all climates, grasta for and conditions of life. Neither age, sex or rank are exempt from its ravages. Its icy hand falls alike upon youthful increase and hoary old age. Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough Expectorant, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, Darting Pains in the Side and Back, Emaciation and a general negative condition of the whole system. It is estimated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and its nature less understood; there is no disease upon which exists a greater variety of opinions, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies. Sons suffering from this dread disease or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of the proper remedies in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health.

The Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON'S PREPARED PREPARATION for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung Affections, has been in use over 10 years with the most marked success. ALL THE WORLD OVER!

There are but few spots on our globe where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not known; and, when known, appreciated.

In the United States and British America it has become a household word. As a protective against malaria, epidemic fevers, Fever and Ague, and other diseases produced by miasmatic influences, it stands far ahead of all other preparations, and is so considered by the most eminent physicians of the day.

In South and Central America, Mexico and West Indies it has obtained a firm hold on the minds of the people, and is implicitly relied upon as a certain preventive and cure for the many malarious diseases incident to those tropical regions.

In Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and adjacent Islands, its progress has been marvellous. Merchants, miners, farmers, manufacturers and squatters all endorse it. Thousands already has it saved from the pernicious effects of miasma, arising from the low swampy grounds so prevalent in those countries.

In China and the East Indies it is working its way with rapid strides, and is extensively used in the hospitals.

In Conservative Europe, even, its influence is being felt, and the day is not far distant when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will become in the old world what it now is in the new—a household friend and blessing.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, exabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of ANN Stroupler, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in incorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation of the mucous of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without inconvenience, to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy peculiar effect, and vigor. Price, per bottle; six for $5.

AUCTION SALES.

FOUR HOUSES AND LOTS IN SEVENTH WARD.—TUESDAY EVENING, May 14th, at 5 o'clock, will be sold, on second floor of Commercial Sales Rooms, 108 Smithfield street, four very desirable Houses and Lots in the Seventh Ward, immediately adjoining the Passenger Railway Depot. The improvements on each is a well-built Two-Story Brick Dwelling, in good repair, with four rooms, and yard in front.

The handsome and desirable situation of this property is sufficiently known. No situation in or around the city is more inviting to capitalists for a sure and rapidly increasing investment, from the certainly increasing importance of Centre avenue and the Wylie street extension, as the main avenues to East Liberty and all interstate consolidation of Pittsburgh.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash; balance in one and two years, with interest. Immediate possession of the premises given to purchaser.

Obtaining Goods Under False Pretences.

On the 15th of March last an information was made before Alderman McMasters by C. A. Boucher, of the firm of Shields & Boucher, against Thomas Liston, charging him with obtaining tea lead under false and fraudulent representations. The allegations of prosecution were, that defendant came to the store and, by representing himself as agent of Collins & Wright, obtained tea lead of considerable value from the firm of which deponent was a member. A warrant was issued at the time for his arrest, but he was not picked up on it until yesterday, when Alderman McMasters' police espied him at Alderman Lynch's office, where he had gone to attend a case. He was arrested after the hearing of which before Alderman McMasters. Another charge of a similar character was also made against him by J. C. Lippincott, grocer, in the Diamond, who alleges that Liston, by representing himself as agent of Henry Collins, had obtained goods from him on time, with the intent and purpose of defrauding him of the value of the same. In default of $600 bail, three hundred on each charge, the defendant was committed to jail to answer the charges at the June term of court.

The Pittsburgh and Connellsville vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On Monday last was the time fixed for the trial in the Supreme Court of the United States of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad case, but at the instance of the Pennsylvania Railroad it was continued until December. The case of the people of Baltimore city and the State of Maryland against the people of Pennsylvania—that is the Pittsburgh and Connellsville vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad—will come before the Supreme Court of the State, at Harrisburg, to-morrow, (15th inst.) It is argued in favor of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Road, the decision is final; if against the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Road, an appeal may be taken. Inasmuch as the courts of Pennsylvania have already three times given decisions favorably to this road, we may reasonably anticipate another of like character.

A Friend in Need.

Yesterday morning Bridget Dowling, residing at Hardscrabble, came to the Mayor's office and made information against Ellen Driscoll, a neighbor, for assault and battery. Officers Moon and Strain went after Ellen, and found her sitting in her kitchen, on the knee of Daniel Brown, while her husband lay asleep in the same room. Ellen was arrested and started for the lock-up greatly to Daniel's disgust. It was a shame, he said, to lock her up, and she should not be a prisoner. He would go down himself and bail her. So he staggered to the lock-up along with her. There he was decided to be quite too drunk to rule at large, and too was locked up. One dollar and a half was found in his possession, as the amount with which he was going to secure Mrs. Driscoll's release.

The Recent Railway Robbery.

A. N. Hackett, whose operations in his vocation, that of a "detective," may well cause "pickpockets" hereabouts to hide their diminished heads and blush for their want of even ordinary sagacity, has "turned up" the robbery of the station house on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, near Coraopert, last week. His investigations has led to the arrest of Livingston, the watchman at the station, circumstances strongly inculcating that he was concerned in the robbery. He was committed to jail at Greensburg to await his trial.

Illustrated that in the exportation of coal Erie, Pa., ranks second in the United States. The amount of the export trade during the season of 1866 was 261,37 tons, of which about 25,000 tons was anthracite, and the remainder bituminious. The entire trade amounted to 377,000 tons. The soft or bituminous coal is obtained from Mercer, Lawrence and Butler counties, and is shipped via the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad, and the Pennsylvania and Erie Canal to the ports on the lake, whence it is taken by vessels to the ports on the upper lakes, mostly to Chicago.

Surety of the Peace.—Thomas Lindsey made information yesterday before Alderman Morrow against Ann Staley, charging her with a breach of the peace. Lindsey lives in the Third ward, Allegheny, and Ann is employed as a domestic in his house. He alleges that she threatened to murder two of his children, and he fears lest she might carry her threat into execution. A warrant was issued for arrest of defendant.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.—A lad named James Hively made a narrow escape from drowning yesterday morning, at the Allegheny wharf. He had been playing with some companions on the rafts moored in the vicinity when he accidentally fell into the river. He sank twice but his companions succeeded in rescuing him. He was drawn out of the water badly frightened, but not materially injured.

Renovated.—Our friends Messrs. Singerly & Cleis, the well known lithographers, No. 74 Third street, have just finished the renovation of their business office, and otherwise improved their establishment for the proper transaction of their large trade. They started deservedly high as exercisers of the art, and we commend pertinent lithographers, and we commend them to our friends having anything to do in their line.

Leg Broken.—A man named Henry Sharp while at work on the Allegheny wharf yesterday morning, had his leg broken between the knee and the ankle. He was engaged in rolling up barrels of oil on the levee, when one accidentally fell to the ground, the barrel passing over his leg. He was removed to his residence near the Point, where his injuries were attended to Assault and Battery.—Matthew Wittig made information yesterday, before Alderman Morrow, against Valentine Frantzveller for assault and battery. He alleges that Mr. F. attacked him, striking him on the back and other parts of the body, and bringing the blood. Both parties live in "Goosetown," in Oakland township. A warrant was issued for defendant's arrest.

Released from Confinement.—Thos. McCoy, committed at the last term of Court for stealing chickens, and sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars and costs, was yesterday discharged from custody by order of Court. McCoy had served thirty days in the county jail, and was discharged under provisions of the insolvent act.

Some Excitement was created yesterday on second street, by the Baptist Church near Grant taking fire. The fire subsided, however, of its own accord before any damage was done to the building, or an alarm had been sounded.

Released on Bail.—On Saturday Eliza Battier made information before Alderman Lindsay, of the Sixth ward, charging Matthew Dottson with perjury. The accused was committed to jail on Saturday in default of bail, but was released yesterday, the required amount being furnished for his appearance to answer the charge.

To the Refuge.—Scott Smith, the lad of fourteen years, convicted in the United States Court last week, on a charge of robbing the mail, was yesterday conveyed to the Refuge, in pursuance of an order of the Court.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 13, 1867.

The general market feels very quiet to-day, the operations in the leading commodities being restricted almost entirely to supplying immediate wants, and, consequently, we have but few round lot sales to record. In prices, however, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—There can be nothing said about Wheat as there is no stock in this market outside of what is in the hands of the mills. Corn is dull and weak, in consequence of unfavorable advices from the east; prime Yellow cannot be quoted above $1,10. Oats dull but unchanged—60c to 62, on wharf and track, and 65 to 68c, in store. Rye is in steady demand, at $1,00 to $1,05. No movement in Barley—but little offering.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady, with increased arrivals. We continue to quote at $15,50 to $15,50 for Spring Wheat; $16 to $17 for Winter Wheat, and $19 to $20 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is firm at $6,50 to $10—one of our leading houses selling at $9,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady at 9¼ to 9½c for Shoulders; 12½ to 12¾c for Sides, and Clear Sides; 13¼ to 13½c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; 16¼ to 16½c for Canvassed do, Barrel Pork, $15,50 to $16—one of our leading houses selling at $15,50.

BUTTER—Is dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, and prices are barely maintained. Good to choice Roll is quoted at 20 to 25c. Grease Butter 8 to 10, as to quality and condition.

CHEESE—The demand was rather better today, and fresh packed sold at 18c.

CHEESE—New Western Reserve is selling at 14 to 15c, as to quality.

POTATOES—Scarce and firm and Peach Blows may now be quoted at $3 to $3,5 per bbl, and Buckeyes at $4,50.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged—8c to 9c for Apples, and 13 to 16c for Peaches—quarters and halves.

HAY—Good to prime baled Hay is in fair demand at $23 to $25 per ton. Sale of 30 bales, inferior, on wharf, at $15.

OIL—Lard Oil is nominal, as no regular sales by manufacturers at 87 to 88c for No. 2, and $1,00 to $1,10 for No. 1.

SEED—Flaxseed still commands $3, and scarce.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 13, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was again dull and neglected to-day, but a single sale reported, 400 bbls "riley," at 65c. Good gravity spot oil may be quoted at 65c to 70; there is but comparatively little offering, but buyers are very scarce at any price, the great proportion of our refiners having their tanks full, and some of them, last week, were obliged to sell for want of tankage. According to a telegram, oil has commenced to decline at Oil City — $2,60 to-day, against $2,70 to $2,75 last week. Even at the reduction, there is no margin for outside dealers, and the certainty of a refined market at present does not justify 65c or 70 here, but there are those who are willing to buy in anticipation of an improvement in the future, considering the investment a good one.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the demand for bonded oil, and while the market is dull and neglected, prices are nominally unchanged. We can report sales of 500 bbls, standard white, for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 29½ to 1000 "wall," for all the year 1867, at 29, and 81 per bbl, and 1500 for May, August and September, on private terms. For free oil the market is dull and unchanged.

AMONG SALES—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Jackson & Bro.... 550 | Mawhinney & E.... 1000
R. Bushnell..... 200 | R. H. Beech..... 200
Forsyth & Bro..... 999 | W. A. Sneathen..... 136

Dry Goods Trade.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, May 13.—The dry goods market continues to droop, and on cotton goods, Atlantic, yard wide sheetings are down to 28, and Indian head Pacific extra are selling at 27½, and Stark at 37. For the other descriptions there is no particular change, except tip top bleached and Almoskeag A bleached at 22½.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, May 11.—The wool market has ruled very quiet during the past week, with very few buyers except in small parcels, and previous rates, on all grades, are barely sustained. The current consumption of wool is much less than the usual average at this season, owing to the continued dullness and depression in the goods market.

As the policy of short time and restricted production is likely to prevail among manufacturers for some time to come, the fact becomes quite obvious that the present supply of domestic wool will be sufficient to bridge over to the new clip, unless this should be unusually delayed in coming upon the market. But the stocks are not large for the season, and at the ordinary rates of consumption, considering the large capacity of our woolen mills, would be entirely absorbed in two or three weeks.

Holders of wool, with reduced stocks, and but little more to come forward from the country, are not disposed to "make any material concessions, since they believe that all the old staple will be wanted at remunerative prices. It is yet too early in the season for them to feel any necessity for closing out. If they should force off their stocks at a reduction, prices would be likely to reach before the new clip is available.

Manufacturers, on the other hand, are not anxious to purchase. They feel confident that there will be wool enough and that prices cannot go higher. They are indifferent because they are working at less than a fair margin; they do not care much whether they go on or not, and would sooner suspend operations entirely than pay higher prices for raw material. As these conflicting influences, operating on the minds of buyer and seller, about neutralize each other, it is hardly probable that wool prices will vary materially during the balance of the season.

There is less demand for fine, full blooded wool as the season advances, and manufacturers are changing their machinery to the production of fall goods. Medium and half blooded fleeces are now most wanted, and command relatively good rates. But the supply of choice wool is so much reduced that holders do not care to press sales, and this description continues to sell in small lots at quite full prices.

Sales of domestic for the week have been quite moderate, and foot up about 550,000 lbs, at a range of 50@70c for fleece, and 35@ 60c for the various grades of pulled.—Bulletin.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with a little over seven feet by the Allegheny, and six feet by the Monongahela marks. The weather yesterday was cloudy and sultry until towards evening, when we had several heavy showers of rain, which cooled the atmosphere and laid the dust. A telegram from Oil City yesterday forenoon reported three feet ten inches—weather warm and showery.

The Julia No. 2, from Cincinnati, is the only transient arrival we have to report, she had a very good trip. The Argosy, same point, is due here to-day, and will return as usual on Wednesday at noon.

The Urlida arrived from Oil City, and the Rose, from that point last evening. The Ida Rees is due here to-day.

The Argosy got in last night from Cincinnati with an excellent trip, and will leave to-morrow promptly at noon. She has become a permanent institution in the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet trade, and she richly deserves, as she receives, the patronage of our shippers.

Business continues dull at the landing, the offerings of freight for all points being very light, and the prospects for any immediate improvement are by no means encouraging. Travel, also, as is always the case, when the warm weather approaches, is falling off, and the emigration to the west is about over for the season. For a month or six weeks past, indeed we might almost say ever since navigation was resumed in February, the competition for freight has been so strong that prices were put down to a ruinously low point, and it is much easier to put them down than it is to put them up.

The Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, with Capt. J. A. Bears, in the office, is now in turn for St. Louis, but will be the first boat out. The Glendale is next after the Robinson.

The St. Louis Dispatch, of the 3d, has the following very interesting table of the quick time made on the Western rivers. It is valuable for reference:

We give below a table carefully prepared of the fast time made by Western steamers, from the commencement of steam navigation in the West. The latter-day boats have yet to beat the time made by the Eclipse, Shotwell and A. M. White. There have been few if any fast runs made by the Western steamboats for many years:

And in the same month and year the steamer Eclipse, E. T. Sturgeon, master, made the same trip in 1 day, 0 hours and 59 minutes, taking into consideration the low water, swift currents, and other obstacles she met with, which, in point of time, is the best trip any Western steamer that ever floated, even up to the present time.
